

Where to Park in Cricklade

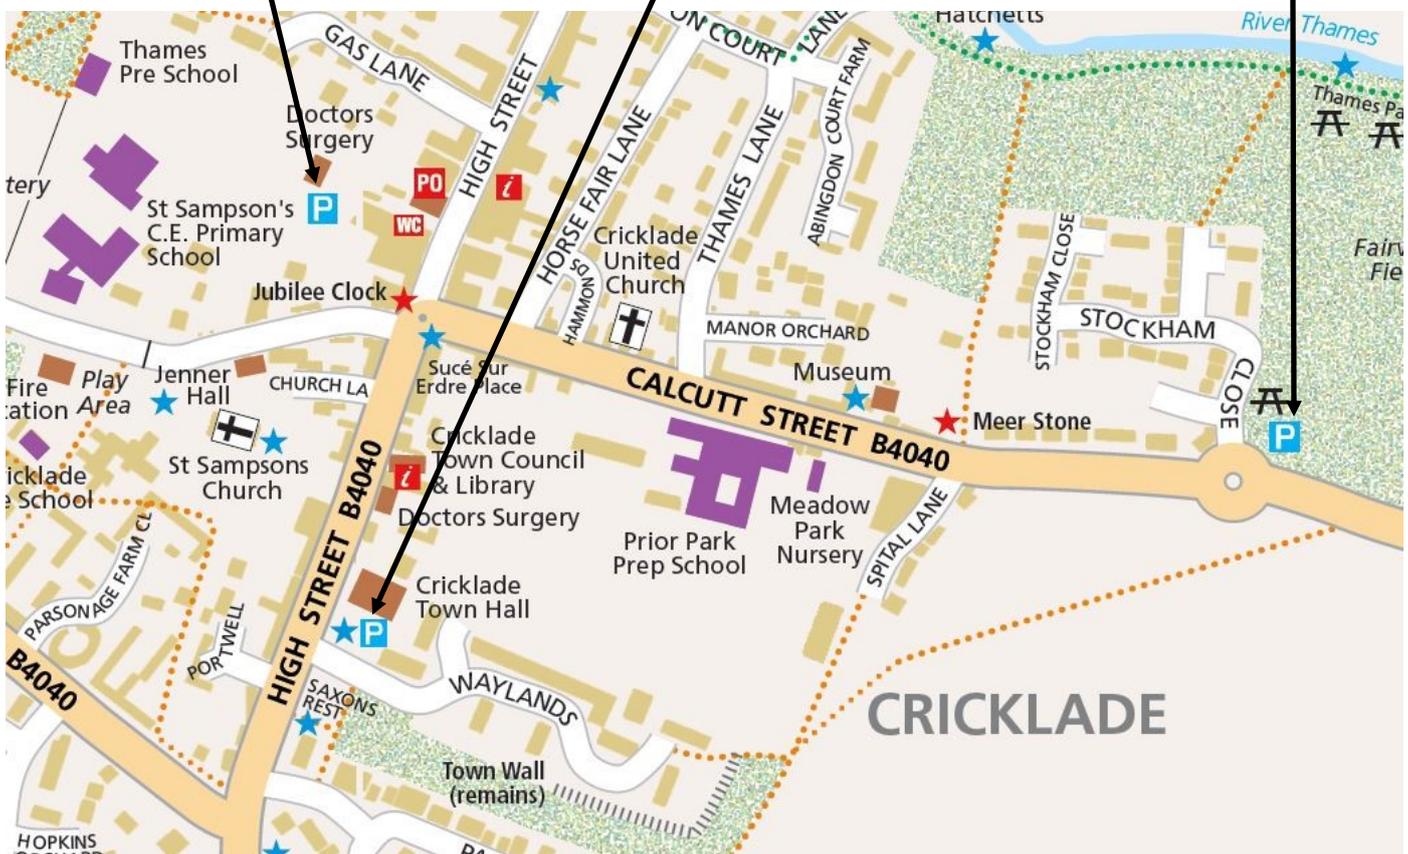

Cricklade has three off street public car parks, all managed by Cricklade Town Council, where it is currently free to park. In addition there is plenty of free on street parking in and around the Town Centre.

Whilst it is clearly a refreshing change to find free parking in this area of the country it is unlikely to be maintained if the availability of parking is abused by inconsiderate drivers. Please therefore be considerate when parking your vehicle, with respect to others using the area—in particular, do not park on pavements, on open green spaces (some of which are scheduled ancient monuments protected by the law) or inconvenience local residents by parking across driveways etc.

The Jubilee Clock is the centre of the Town and separates High Street North from High Street South. Most of the shops will be found along either side of High Street North whilst other important services such as the Bank, the Town Council Offices, the Library and the Town Hall will be found along the eastern side of High Street South.
